"Ned is a terrible instructor, made me pass first time in a Manual. Overall a really good school that genuinely care about helping people pass. It really has been a pleasant experience from start to finish. I even had the experience of having Kevin as an instructor briefly who was excellent in explaining the way to handle clutch control during hill starts. I would highly recommend this school if you are considering taking manual lessons."

"Just passed my restricted test in manual today, first try! I had a fantastic experience with A1 Driving School and my instructor Ned Music. He's great, definitely recommend working with him to anyone. Calm, patient and though he'll say he's grumpy, it's 'grumpy' with the air quotes. At the end of every lesson, he'd go over what we did and break it down, mixing critique and praise in a clear, collected manner. He's extremely positive about it and explains it so that I understand what went wrong and learnt how to spot my own mistakes. I had dragged my feet on getting my license for so long because it was a nightmare to fit in with work, and I hadn't wanted to give up my weekends to be booked in for multiple lessons each day. Eventually I bit the bullet, and when I gave A1 Driving a call, they were fantastic at working around it. I start work at 10am and every time I booked at 9am, Ned would arrive and we would start the lesson at 8:50am and end at 9:50am. We'd finish either at my home (If I was WFH) or at my office, and I would have those ten minutes to log in, make my cup of tea and not get in trouble with my work. In fact I suspect my punctuality will take a hit now that I've passed! Without that I don't think I'd have managed to fit the lessons into my schedule and I can't express how much I appreciate Ned and A1 going the extra mile there. It might be a small thing for them, but it meant a lot to me and they never said a word about it. Absolutely recommend to anyone looking to learn manual to work with Ned. A1 Driving School has been an awesome experience and I cannot recommend it more highly."

"Had an awesome experience with Ned! It's usually very daunting driving with an instructor but he made learning manual really enjoyable and fun! I used another driving school beforehand where they just rip into you and blow your confidence away and made me never want to touch a manual again, but Ned was amazing he didn't give a single bit of negative feedback. Instead, he told me what I could improve on in the nicest way and boosted my confidence making me want to drive more. I love his teaching style where he wants to work with you and make you comfortable, confident and actually enjoy the experience of a new challenge. Cheers Ned! Even though I've completed what I've needed, I would definitely go for a drive with him again just for a fun catchup with an awesome man and would highly suggest his services to anyone else!"
